If I were not an Englishman, I should wish to be one, was the blunt reply. Here spoke the pride of race, the proud feeling of superiority, the conviction that England was the greatest nation in the world; that her mission, her motives, her policy were for the good of civilization and of mankind. Pride of race has been the birthright of Englishmen for 300 years, handed down from father to son as a priceless heirloom. For the time it is gone, vanished out of sight. If any of the mighty dead - Chatham, Pitt, Canning, Palmerston, Russell, or even peace-loving Aberdeen - were to revisit the House of Commons, they would scarcely recognise the English breed. They would see defeat, disgrace, humiliation to our arms and our diplomacy, condoned without a murmur, treated with absolute apathy and indifference. They would see a class to whom the glory of the British Empire is a distasteful theme, who look upon it rather as an incubus to be got rid of, who shudder at the strains of, Rule Britannia, as Mephistopheles shudders at the church bells! They would find the age of patriotism dead, and in its place an age of sophisters, economists, and calculators. If they should inquire what has caused this great wreck of national pride, they will learn that during his Midlothian campaign Mr. Gladstone and his followers set themselves to undo everything that Lord Beaconsfield had done. whether it was working well for the country or...
